During my frequent travels I have been in constant danger from rivers, floods, robbers, my own countrymen and foreigners. I have been in danger in the town, in the country, at sea, and from false Christians. I have known exhaustion and exposure, physical pain and personal hurt, hunger, and thirst. And in addition to that I feel the burden of all the churches. Nevertheless, I believe God, and I have learnt to be content, both in His work and His will. I have fought a good fight.
