They have been thus repeated, every joy, for more than three-quarters of a century; and still we find them the most impressive ever uttered by this nation. The most impressive, not merely because they are wise, but because no other expression from a people is comparable with its deliberate, conscious announcement of its own advent. Since the coming of One above all peoples, no event has been so solemn as the coming of this people, with its new work, upon the earth. While this announcement lingers on the ear, recalling the scenes in which it was made, we are impelled, if we speak at all, to speak only of the virtue which dared to utter it, in the presence of so many perils. But we are now in the midst of the new work which was then foretold; and the spirit, which inspired that prophecy, bids us rather to consider the task which lies...
