After this was heard a still small voice, which Elijah, recognising as the divine oracle, and covering his face with his mantle, as before the tremendous presence of God, stood forward in the entrance of the cave. The voice demanded, What doest thou here, Elijah? And he answered, I have been very jealous for the Lord God of hosts, because the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenants, thrown down thine altars, and slain thy prophets with the sword: and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life to take it away. The Lord comforted him by telling him that he had left yet 7000 men in Israel who had not bowed the knee to Baal, and assured him of his life by bidding him go, and return on his...
